Mental Health Legal Service (Edinburgh and the East)

provides legal advice and representation to people with mental health issues, acquired brain injury and dementia, their families and carers.

Areas of law dealt with:

- Detention and Appeals under the Mental Health Act.
- Adults with Incapacity: medical treatment, Intervention Orders, Financial and Welfare Guardianship.
- Organising finances: appointees, Powers of Attorney and Financial Guardianship.
- Community Care – getting the services you need.
- Civil Law, including Child and Family, Children's Hearings, Reparation, Debt claims etc.

Objectives and Philosophy

People with mental health issues have legal difficulties which are sometimes compounded by their illness and, as a result, they often do not get the legal help that they need. The Service provides high quality advice and representation which is appropriate for the needs of its clients.

LSA's Mental Health Legal Service (Edinburgh and the East) is funded by City of Edinburgh, Midlothian and West Lothian Councils.

LSA's solicitors work in the firm of Brown & Co. Legal LLP.
